INTRODUCTION

2012 in Slovak audiovision was interesting from a number of perspectives and it confirmed some trends and predictions.

The record number of full-length Slovak films produced (22) as well as the high share of co-productions (11) is seen to be positive. Moreover, out of seven 100% Slovak productions, six were débuts! Naturally, the variable quality of these works is questionable, but I dare say that the record number of films made was possible largely due to the availability of film technology – no fewer than four of them owe their existence to this – and also due to enthusiasm on the part of the film crew as all of them belong within the “no budget” category. However, the question arises as to whether it is necessary for all these films to achieve cinema distribution and an average of five to six viewers per screening does give rise to a certain amount of scepticism; however, there’s no accounting for tastes or for the market!

Film distribution recorded a slight decline in the number of audiences, but it matches the pan-European trend, hence the decline is not dramatic. The box office takings increased slightly, due to an increase in admission fees. The admission fees also grew due to the growing share represented by digital cinemas; digitisation confers not only a higher quality of screenings, but also makes greater financial demands, hence the costs are reflected in higher admission fees. As for attendances at individual films, American blockbusters are still in the lead but, on the other hand, admissions to Slovak films declined markedly (the most successful Slovak film had about a 75% lower admission rate compared with the past). The reason for this can be found in the lack of a real domestic hit on offer; the most successful Slovak film at both national and international levels Made in Ash does not have any distinct commercial ambitions and is intended rather for arthouse audiences.

The knotty problem of the digitisation of Slovak cinemas was untangled – thanks to the financial injection from the Ministry of Culture and greater support by the Slovak Audiovisual Fund, the proportion of digitised cinemas has grown significantly compared to the end of 2012. The total number of cinemas did fall to another historical low, although this trend was predictable; even prior to the start of the digitisation process, it was clear that the number of mainly single-screen municipal cinemas would be significantly reduced. The draft Cinema Digitisation Strategy adopted by the Government of the Slovak Republic and the supporting scheme of the Slovak Audiovisual Fund (potential support for cinema digitisation even by E-cinema technology and the combination of a grant and a loan) in tandem with private initiatives raise hopes that Slovakia will successfully overcome the obstacles of digitisation within a couple of years.

On January 1, 2013 Act no. 342/2012 amending and supplementing Act. No. 308/2000 on Broadcasting and Retransmission and the Amendment of Act No. 195/2000 on Telecommunications as amended entered into effect. The Act stipulates, inter alia, that the provider of audiovisual media services is obliged, on request, to maintain statistical data on the share of European works in the total time of all programmes offered in the catalogue of programmes for a calendar month, and the provider is also obliged to reserve at least 20% of the total time of programmes offered in the catalogue of programmes for a calendar month to European works.

The Government of the Slovak Republic established the Council of the Government for Culture (hereinafter referred to as the “Council”) with the aim of strengthening the importance of culture and the need for systematic dialogue, and the necessity for a coordinated procedure between the Ministry of Culture, other ministries and central general government bodies, representatives of the self-governing structure and personalities of cultural life on the basis of the Government Manifesto for 2012-2016 by Government Resolution no. 456/2012 of September 12, 2012 as an advisory, coordinating and initiating Government body for resolving issues related to the development, creation and support of culture and the preservation of cultural heritage. The statute of the Council regulating its position, scope of activities, composition and bodies was adopted by the aforesaid Government Resolution.

The most significant documents relating to audiovision which the Ministry of Culture of the Slovak Republic submitted to the inter-ministerial commenting procedure in 2012 included: Decree of the Ministry of Culture of the Slovak Republic amending and supplementing Decree of the Ministry of Culture of the Slovak Republic no. 589/2007 which defines the details of the uniform system of denoting audiovisual works, audio recordings of artistic performances, multimedia works, programmes or other components of the programme service and of the method of application of this system as amended by Decree of the Ministry of Culture of the Slovak Republic no. 541/2009; Draft Update of the Project of Systematic Restoration of the Audiovisual Heritage of the Slovak Republic for 2013-2015 and especially Draft Cinema Digitisation Strategy of the Slovak Republic which was submitted on November 29, 2012. The Government adopted it on January 9, 2013 and charged the Minister of Culture with the task of securing the implementation of the Cinema Digitisation Strategy, in collaboration with the Slovak Audiovisual Fund, by December 31, 2014.

Nowadays, even the youngest generation has an opportunity to develop its creative potential at a number of schools – at Ludovít Rajter’s Elementary School of Art (www.zussklenarova.sk) and the Academy of Animation (www.uat.sk) in Bratislava, and also at the Private Secondary Art School (www.filmovaskola.sk) in Košice. Their works are presented at the Animofest festival. The Secondary School of Scenic Graphic Arts (www.zsssvba.sk) in Bratislava offers courses in scenic graphic arts and animation, and the Private Secondary School of Design (www.skoladesignu.sk) offers a three-year higher technical education course focused on film and television production and animation.

Although there are currently several university level schools of art in Slovakia, the teaching of audiovisual art in them has been only marginal – for instance, the Faculty of Mass Media Communications at the University of St. Cyril and Methodius in Trnava, the Department of Photography and New Media at the Academy of Fine Arts and Design in Bratislava, the Department of Fine and Intermedia at the Faculty of Arts of the Košice Technical University, and the Faculty of Fine Arts of the Academy of Arts in Banská Bystrica. Their number has not increased, as the Government of the Slovak Republic, at its session on May 23, 2012, did not grant state consent to the prepared first private Academy of Film Production and Multimedia (www.vsftam.sk) with its planned study programme: Animation and Multimedia.

From March 19 to March 31, 2012, the 4th Frejm Festival of works by students of the Faculty of Mass Media Communication at the University of St. Cyril and Methodius in Trnava was held. In Category A (1st and 2nd year students of the Bachelor’s programme) Love Is Endless (SK, 2012, dir. Stanislav Čačko) won, and in Category B (all the remaining students) Albín Medúz – 30 Years in Theatre (Albín Medúz – 30 rokov divadle; SK, 2012, dir. Jozef Bauer) won 1st place, Man, Get Angry (Človeče, hnevaj sa; SK, 2012, dir. Radmila Buricová, Miro Piaček) was second and Jack Sparrow and the Secret of the Deep (Jack Sparrow a Tajomstvo hlbín; SK, 2012, dir. Miroslav Ardon) was third.

The first prize at the 7th International Festival of Animations by Secondary School Students Animofest 2012 went to Love Buzz (Bzukot lásky; SK, 2012, dir. Agata Bolaňosová). The Best of Animofest 2006 – 2012 award was also granted to the best animated film of all the Animofest festivals held to date. The award went to Zuzana Bobríková for her animated film Alegria (SK, 2010).

Students of the Faculty of Dramatic Arts of the Academy of Arts in Banská Bystrica (www.fdu.aku.sk) can study Dramatic Arts, and Film Art and Multimedia. Mgr. art. Lubomír Viluda is Head of the Department of Documentary Film and Mgr. art. Kateřina Javorská is Head of the Department of Film Dramaturgy and Screenwriting. In the academic year 2011/2012, 46 students studied in the Bachelor’s and Master’s programmes in Documentary Film, and 23 students studied in the Bachelor’s programme in Film Dramaturgy and Screenwriting.

In 2012, students in the Department of Documentary Film made 46 films and won eleven awards – e.g. The Nightwatchman (Sluníčko; SK, 2011, dir. Lubica Krajňáková) won the Best Documentary Award at Watch Out! – Macedonia Film Festival 2012, The Lands of Strawman (Slameníkove zeme; SK, 2011, dir. Peter Kováč) won an Honourable Mention at Etnofilm Čadca, The Scarecrow (Strašiak, SK, 2011, dir. Alžbeta Gavendová) won the award of the Union of Slovak Television Creators and the Literary Fund at the EnviroFilm Festival 2012 in Banská Bystrica, Mercun (Mercúň; SK, 2012, dir. Martin Jurza) won the main Award of the Mayor of Piešťany at Eurotour Piešťany, Sisyphus (Sizyfos, SK, 2011, dir. Marek Janičík) the International Jury Award and 10 Hours 55 Minutes (10 hodín 55 minút; SK, 2011, dir. Robert Puchert), Trapped in the Net (Chytený v sieti; SK, 2012, dir. Matej Ligač), The Gypsy Heart (Romano Jilo; SK, 2011, dir. Ján Krížovenský), The Lands of Strawman and The Scarecrow won the Honorable mention at IFF TUR Ostrava 2012 and Cinema World (Kino Svet; SK, 2012, dir. Marek Janičík) was included in the programme of Art Film Fest 2012.

However, the Film and Television Faculty of the Academy of Music and Performing Arts (www.vsmu.sk – hereinafter referred to as “FTF VŠMU”) in Bratislava has continued to play a dominant role in the preparation of future filmmakers and producers.

FTF VŠMU is a member of the International Association of Film Academies of the world, CILECT, and also its European section, GEECT. Ass. Prof. Anton Szomolányi, ArtD. is the Dean of FTF VŠMU. Ten study programmes are currently running at FTF VŠMU.

As of October 31, 2012, there were 367 students studying at FTF VŠMU, of whom 11 were foreign students. There were 220 students in the Bachelor’s, 128 in the Master’s and 29 in the post-graduate programmes (of whom 12 were external students). In the academic year 2011/2012, 123 students graduated from FTF VŠMU (59 Bachelors, 51 Masters and 13 Doctors of Arts).

In the academic year 2011/2012, 116 film projects were completed at the FTF VŠMU.

Also in 2012, FTF VŠMU co-organised several workshops, master classes and series of lectures, such as MIDPOINT for producers, or Goran Paskaljevič’s master class.

In 2012, the 16th Student Film Festival Ľačko 2012 was held. I’m a Miner, Who’s More? (Ja som baník, kto je viac...; SK, 2012, dir. Roman Fábian) won the Grand Prix at the Festival and it also became the Best Feature Film. Lighta (SK, 2012, dir. Andrej Gregorčok) won the Best Animated Film award. The Jury decided not to award the Best Documentary award.

The second Visegrad Film Forum also formed part of the Festival, and students from partner schools (FAMU Prague, AGRFTLjubljana, SZFE Budapest, Andrzej Wajda Master School of Film Directing, Warsaw, PWSFTViT Łódź) also participated. Low-budget Film Production was the main topic of the Forum.

Films made by students of the FTF VŠMU won 24 awards in all in 2012 – 7 abroad, 15 at local festivals and 2 Grand Prix nominations. For instance, Light Breeze (Ľahký vánok; SK, 2010, dir. Sahraa Karimi) – national film award, Sun in a Net for Best Short Feature Film; Ján Půček for the script of When Rails Blossom (Keď kvitnú koľajnice) – Tibor Vichta Award in the Full-length Feature Film Category; tWINs (SK, 2011, dir. Peter Budinsky) – Special Mention at the Kiev International Short Film Festival and Best Students Animated Film Award – International Festival of Animated Films, Anifest; Camino (SK, 2012, dir. Jana Bučka) – Golden Grape Award for Best Documentary at the Lubuskie Film Summer in Lagow. For further awards, refer to Awards for Slovak Films and Filmmakers Abroad.

In 2012, the FTF VŠMU started releasing the annual DVD Golden Section (Zlatý rez) with a selection of the best films of FTF VŠMU students for the previous year (in this case for 2011).

The Slovak Audiovisual Fund (AVF) provides significant support for the production of students’ films. In 2012, the AVF supported 28 projects with a total of EUR 95,200 (in 2011, it was 26 projects with EUR 137,208). In addition to these projects, the FTF VŠMU composed and had accepted the educational-artistic project of animated and documentary films “The Castle” (Hrad) for the exhibitions in the Slovak National Museum.
FTF Students and teachers are involved in the two-year Oral History project focused on the collection and analysis of memories of Slovak film professionals. Students of Film Science at FTF prepare the magazine Frame which is a part of the journal for science on film and moving images Kino-Ikon. The FTF VŠMU operates the students’ film club, FK 35 mm.

FILM PRODUCTION

2012 saw the largest number of Slovak and co-production full-length cinema films being made in the history of Slovak cinematography. 22 films is more than the total from the two previous years – 8 in 2010 and 11 in 2011, and 3 more than the previous record number of films made in 2009. 2012 again proved how important co-productions are for domestic production. Of the 22 films made, half were films with a 100% Slovak share and the other half consisted of 4 majority and 7 minority co-productions.

As for the 13 feature films, Made in Ash (Až do mesta Aš; SK/CZ, 2012, dir. Iveta Gráfová) was one of the most successful; it was selected for the “East of the West” competition at the 47th IFF Karlovy Vary, it received the national nomination for the Academy Awards in the Best Foreign Language Film category, it won the Best Slovak Feature Film award at the 14th IFF Bratislava and it was also successful at the Slovak Film Critics Awards. The film depicts the destinies of several women of various education, nationality and age who meet in the town of Aš on the Czech-German border. 7 feature-length fiction films were made with 100% Slovak share. With the exception of the intimate summer story about love and apparitions Angels (Anjeli; SK, 2012, dir. Róbert Šveda), all these films are débuts. The fantasy thriller set in 2025 Immortalitas (SK, 2012, dir. Erik Bošňák), the summer romantic musical comedy about a failed holiday in Croatia So Fine (Tak fajn; SK, 2012, dir. Paľo Janík), the musical-dancing film Dancing on Broken Glass (Tanec medzi črepinami; SK, 2012, dir. Marek Ťapáč) returning to the traditions of this genre in Slovakia, the crime comedy Tigers in the City (Tígre v meste; SK, 2012, dir. Juraj Krasnohorský), the first theatrically released Slovak horror film Evil (Zlo; SK, 2012, dir. Peter Bebjak) and its genre descendant Attonitas (SK, 2012, dir. Jaroslav Mottl).

With one exception – Aftermath (Poklosie; PL/NL/RU/SK, 2012, r. Władysław Pasikowski) all the minority feature film co-productions were made in collaboration with companies in the Czech Republic: the post-war drama set in the Sudetenland 7 Days of Sin (7 dní hříchů; CZ/SK, 2012, dir. Jiří Chlumský), the bitter musical comedy from the beginnings of the punk movement in Czechoslovakia DONT STOP (CZ/SK, 2012, dir. Richard Řeřicha), the children’s film The Blue Tiger (Modrý tygr; CZ/DE/SK, 2012, dir. Petr Oukropec, Bohdan Sláma) and the crime story set against the backdrop of dramatic events of the 1950s in the former Czechoslovak Socialist Republic In the Shadow (Ve stínu; CZ/PL/SK/US/IL, 2012, dir. David Ondříček), which was the Czech nomination for the Academy Awards for Best Foreign Language Film. The drama Aftermath broached the taboo topic of genocide in Poland during World War 2.

In 2012, 9 full-length documentaries for cinemas were made, 3 of them by Zuzana Piussi concentrating on socio-political topics. While in Men of Revolution (Muži revolúcie; SK, 2012, dir. Zuzana Piussi) she returns to the events from the November Velvet Revolution of 1989 to the first free elections in 1990 via subjective views of former revolutionaries, in The Grasp of the State (Od Fica do Fica; SK, 2012, dir. Zuzana Piussi) she maps out the period from the 2010 elections to the 2012 elections which was affected by the “Gorila Case”. In her documentary Fragile Identity (Krehká identita; SK/CZ, dir. Zuzana Piussi) she criticises the notion of national identity and everything related to it. Bells of Happiness (Zvonky šťastia; SK, 2012, dir. Marek Šulík, Jana Bučka) deals with the Roma issue in the form of a documentary play about a couple admiring icons of Czechoslovak pop-culture. and in The Gypsy Vote (Cigáni idú do volieb; SK/CZ, 2012, dir. Jaroslav Vojtek) audiences have a chance to watch a Roma leader and his election campaign team in their attempt to win the elections. GRADUATES/Freedom Is Not for Free (ABSOLVENTI/ Sloboda nie je zadarmo; SK, 2012, dir. Tomáš Krupa) deals with the trials and tribulations young people experience after graduation, Square in a Circle (Štvorec v kruhu; SK/CZ, 2012, dir. Ľubomír Štecko) is a documentary about an artist who does not adapt to the world but tries to adapt the world to his ideas, The Greatest Wish (Největší přání; CZ/SK, 2012, dir. Olga Špárová) follows up two films – surveys from 1964 and 1989 made by the director’s father, Jan Špáta. New Life of Family Album (Nový život; CZ/SK, 2012, dir. Adam Oľha) is a very personal look at the trials and tribulations of the director’s family.

The Slovak Television Company participated in the production of seven full-length films and it continues to be the biggest producer in the area of documentary film, either making its own films or collaborating with independent producers (see the chapter on Television).

Slovak Audiovisual Fund

The Slovak Audiovisual Fund (AVF) has provided support since 2010. As an independent public institution established by a separate Act, it is the main source of financial support in audiovisual in the Slovak Republic. Its aim is to support all parts of filmmaking, film production and distribution process, film festivals, education, research, editorial activities and technological development, particularly in the area of cinema digitisation. The financial sources of the Fund consist of a contribution from the national budget and contributions from entities which use audiovisual works in their business activities: the broadcaster of the television programme service in the public interest (5% of revenues from advertisements), private television broadcasters (2% of revenues from advertisements), cinemas (EUR 0.03 from each ticket sold), distributors of audiovisual works (1% of revenues from distribution outside of cinemas), retransmission operators (1% of retransmission revenues).

In 2012, the AVF allocated EUR 85,148 more financial support than in the previous year (EUR 5,896,588 in 2012 and EUR 5,811,440 in 2011). In 2012, 483 applications were submitted to the AVF with total costs of EUR 79,110,268 and a volume of requested funds of EUR 22,656,251. The number of applications supported increased slightly from 244 in 2011 (a further 9 supported projects either returned the funds granted to them or did not conclude an agreement with the AVF) to 256 in 2012. The share of supported projects in the overall number of applications submitted remained approximately the same (53% in 2012 and 47.1% in 2011).

On January 9, 2013 the Slovak Government adopted the Cinema Digitisation Strategy of the Slovak Republic. It is largely focused on actual technological and financial solutions for those single-screen cinemas in Slovakia which have not yet been digitised. Financial support for digitisation at the national level will subsequently be provided via Slovak Audiovisual Fund. The AVF will earmark about EUR 500,000 a year from its budget in 2013 and 2014.

In addition to support for the digitisation of cinemas by means of technology in the DCI standard, in 2013, in compliance with the Strategy and pursuant to the Support Activities Structure, as adopted, the AVF also opens up the possibility of modernising Slovak cinemas with less expensive equipment but having the parameters of E-cinema technology. When using this technology, the grant provided by the Fund may amount to up to 90% of costs incurred for the acquisition of the equipment. At the same time, the Fund will open for the first time in Programme 4 the possibility of a new form of support which is a combination of grant and loan. The aim of these changes is to provide the operators of single-screen cinemas with more digitisation options and, in compliance with the Digitisation Strategy as adopted, is hence the priority not only of the Fund but also of the Ministry of Culture and the Government in the immediate future.

Literary Fund

The mission of the Literary Fund is to support the development of artistic, scientific and technical literature, journalistic and creative activities in the area of theatre, film, radio and television. In 2012, the Committee of the Section for Creative Work in Television, Film and Video supported, via the ALFA programme, the production of original, new literary works which could form the basis of feature, documentary and animated films. The Section Committee also evaluated film and television productions made in 2011 and rewarded the best by presenting them with the Igric Awards (more about the Igric Awards in the Festivals and Reviews chapter).

The Literary Fund also made contributions to costs for creative journeys in Slovakia and abroad, and provided rewards for performing artists celebrating an anniversary in 2012. Even those performing artists who are no longer in a productive age were not forgotten, with support provided to those who found themselves in a difficult financial situation due to illness, old age or other objective reasons.

In 2012, the Section Committee had a budget of EUR 126,000 (EUR 113,000 in 2011), and provided EUR 118,390.10 (EUR 112,531.41 in 2011) by December 31, 2012 from the budget for care for creative staff and artists. Almost half of this amount (EUR 58,800) was paid to 64 people in the form of creative scholarships. In 2011, 53 people were granted creative scholarships totalling EUR 51,400.
In 2012, MEDIA Desk Slovakia continued, in compliance with the approved action plan and within the budget allocation, to fulfil its fundamental tasks: to provide information on the MEDIA Programme to all interested parties and to consult with applicants seeking a grant from the programme; it also performed activities directed towards improving the integration of Slovak audiovision professionals within Europe. The effects of the MEDIA Programme on Slovak audiovision may be assessed by the amount of support allocated to Slovakia from the Programme each year, but perhaps even more important are the additional tools provided by the Programme to shape Slovak audiovision creatively.

We continued to register positive results for Slovak companies applying for funding from the Programme in 2012. The MEDIA Programme supported Slovak applicants in 2012 to the extent of EUR 271,605 within the following schemes: Distribution – Selective Support: EUR 19,300; Support for Audiovisual Festivals: EUR 45,000; Distribution – Automatic Support EUR 167,305 and Support for Digitisation of European Cinemas: EUR 40,000. The total success rate of applicants remains high, achieving around 65% in the individual schemes.

Indirect support within the Europa Cinemas network for the 19 Slovak cinemas associated in the network amounted to EUR 83,046; hence the total support allocated to Slovak companies in 2012 was EUR 354,651.

In April, as is traditional, MEDIA Desk published the Report on the Slovak Audiovisual Situation in 2011 with a summary of information on all important aspects of development of the Slovak audiovisual industry (in Slovak and English, circulation of 500). As a priority, the Report is distributed to foreign companies, organisations and institutions.

MEDIA Desk Slovakia organised or co-organised (together with the neighbouring MEDIA Desks Austria, Czech Republic and Hungary) a total amount of 6 seminars and workshops, from which we select the most important two:

- On September 6 and 7, the seminar and workshop Co-Producing Documentaries in Europe III was held in Piešťany. MEDIA Desk Slovakia was the main organiser; the European Documentary Network, the international association of documentary producers seated in Copenhagen and IFF Cine- tik Piešťany both acted as co-organisers.
- On November 8 and 9, the seminar Sources2: Silver Screens with a renowned expert from the field, Ruth McCance was held in Bratislava (a renowned training programme Sources2, IFF Bratislava, MEDIA Desks Czech Republic and Hungary acted as main organisers). As it has already become a tradition, it was attended by numerous professionals from Slovakia and three neighbouring countries.

MEDIA Desk Slovakia co-organised (in association with the Office of the Government of the Slovak Republic and the Permanent Representation of the EU Commission to the Slovak Republic) a Mini-festival of European film entitled 7x7; the Festival was held from May 10 to June 27, and during this period seven European films, supported from the MEDIA Programme, were shown in seven Slovak cities. Altogether, 3,103 viewers watched the festival films.

EURIMAGES

■ Eurimages, the cinematographic fund of the Council of Europe, is the only European fund supporting transnational co-productions of full-length films. The fund has been operational since 1988 and Slovakia joined it on April 15, 1996. Zuzana Gindl-Tatárová represents Slovakia in Eurimages. As of December 31, 2012, Eurimages had 36 Member States. In four sessions in 2012, the fund supported 63 feature films, 3 documentaries and 2 animated films with EUR 21,710,000. From its establishment up to December 31, 2012, the fund had supported 1,453 European co-productions to the extent of approximately EUR 440 million.

■ In 2012, three Slovak projects applied for Eurimages support: CLOWNWISE (Klauni; CZ/LU/SK/FI, dir. Viktor Tauš) which is a minority co-production for Slovakia: the Slovak company SOKOL KOLLAR spol. s.r.o. (producer Oľga Detaryová) holds a 13.38% share, 45.51% belongs to the Czech partner – Fog’n’Desire Film s.r.o., 28.04% to the Luxembourg co-producer Tarantula Luxembourg and 13.07% to the Finnish company Kinosto Oy. It was the only feature film in the competition to obtain the full complement of points and the unanimous support of EUR 210,000.

■ Fair Play (CZ/SK/DE, dir. Andrea Sedláčková) with a 34.57% share for ARINA s.r.o. (producer Silvia Panáková) as a minority co-producer and Colette (CZ/SK/NL, dir. Milan Cieslar) with a 24.06% share for Wandal Productions s.r.o. (producer Wanda Adamík Hrycová) as a minority co-producer, did not receive any support.

■ Slovakia’s contribution to the fund in 2012 was EUR 116,235.

■ From the date that Slovakia acceded to Eurimages up to December 31, 2012, 27 projects were granted support; in these projects Slovak production companies functioned as either majority or minority co-producer.

CINEMA DISTRIBUTION

■ In 2012, 3,436,269 viewers attended Slovak cinemas. That represents 4.64% fewer than in 2011, but it corresponds approximately to the average year-on-year decline in cinema attendances across the European Union in 2012, which was 2.2%. For comparison, more dramatic declines than that for Slovakia were recorded in Portugal (12.1%), Italy (9.9%) and France (6.3%). As the number of screenings increased by only 0.10%, from 114,783 in 2011 to 114,900 in 2012, the average attendance per screening also fell by 4.74%, from 31.39 viewers in 2011 to 29.91 in 2012. This is, historically, the lowest average attendance per screening in the era of independent Slovakia. However, the average admission fee increased from EUR 4.79 in 2011 to a record EUR 5.11, hence the box office takings increased by 1.71% despite the decline in the number of admissions. The total gross box office was EUR 17,548,181.

■ Sixteen distribution companies (Bontonfilm started operating on the Slovak market on August 1, 2012 when it took over film distribution from Tatrafilm, which now only operates cinemas) released 226 films in our cinemas (of these, nine were re-releases). This is 26 more than the previous maximum in 2010. The highest number of premières was recorded in September (27) also thanks to Project 100 – 2012; by contrast, the lowest number (10) were released in December. Distributors released films from 24 countries. Most of the premièred films came from the USA (93), while France and the Czech Republic ranked second with 23 premières. Altogether, 639 titles were screened in Slovak cinemas in 2012.
In 2012, Tatrafilm/Bontonfilm was the most successful distribution company. (Results for the individual companies cannot be provided separately as the results for the period prior to and after August 1, 2012 are not available.) The company had 48 premières out of the 79 films it screened in 2012, with a 37.77% audience share and 38.74% share of gross box office and three titles – Ice Age: Continental Drift (US, 2012, dir. Steve Martino, Mike Thurmeier), The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn – Part 2 (US, 2012, dir. Bill Condon) and Madagascar 3: Europe’s Most Wanted (US, 2012, dir. Eric Darnell, Tom McGrath, Conrad Vernon) were among the four best attended films of the year. Continental Film was ranked second (23.10% / 23.29%); it had the following films in the TOP 10 in 2012: The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey (US/NZ, 2012, dir. Peter Jackson), The Dark Knight Rises (US, 2012, dir. Christopher Nolan) and Sherlock Holmes: A Game of Shadows (US, 2011, dir. Guy Ritchie). Forum Film Slovakia was ranked third (12.69% / 12.39), it distributed the James Bond movie Skyfall (GB/US, 2012, r. Sam Mendes).

In addition to the Union of Slovak Film Distributors members, the Community Centre in Kroměříž, FILMTOPIA, Kučera film, LEON Production and Pegas Film each distributed one film in Slovak cinemas.

The film with the highest attendance for 2012 was Ice Age: Continental Drift which was viewed by 244,567 people (in 2011 the equivalent was Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2 (US, 2011, dir. David Yates) with 212,214 viewers). Unlike in the previous year, no Slovak films were ranked in the TOP 10 or the TOP 20. The best attended domestic film Confidant (eŠteBák; SK/CZ/PL, 2011, dir. Juraj Nvota) with 25,310 viewers was ranked 39th. The final part of the vampire series The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn – Part 2 entered Slovak distribution history last year. Not only did the attendance during the opening weekend commencing November 15 create a new record (94,197 viewers) but so also did the weekend box office takings (over EUR 630,000).

In 2012, only 61 of the premières were still available on 35mm film, i.e. 27.3% (155 – 78.28% in 2011). Following unsuccessful negotiations with distributors, the new film by Zuzana Piussi The Grasp of the State was made available on the Internet. From November 20 to the end of the year, 12,834 viewers from 65 countries watched the film via the Piano system, which enables website operators to charge for on-line content. Thanks to this success, further Slovak and Czech films have gradually been made available on the Internet, and the number of Piano subscribers has increased by tens of percentage points.

In 2012, seventeen Slovak films and majority co-productions were premières in our cinemas (10 in 2011) which is one less than the record of 18 new Slovak films in 2009. The following films were premières: feature films: Angels, Made in Ash, Confidant, Immortalitas, So Fine, Dancing on Broken Glass, Tigers in the City, Evil, the documentaries: The Gypsy Vote, Men of Revolution, The Grasp of the State, Bells of Happiness and five minority co-productions (4 in 2011): feature films: 7 Days of Sin, The Blue Tiger, DONT STOP, In the Shadow and the animated film Alois Nebel (CZ/DE/SK, 2011, dir. Tomáš Luňák). However, only 90,730 viewers watched them in cinemas, representing a 2.64% share of the total admissions and the gross box office totalled EUR 392,697 (2.24% of the total gross box office). All the Slovak films (not only the premières) screened in 2012 in cinemas were viewed by 103,759 people (3.02%); once minority co-productions are subtracted, this figure drops to 81,852 (2.38%). In 2011, 171,609 viewers watched Slovak films and the year-on-year drop in attendance for 100% Slovak films and majority co-productions is hence more than 50%. The lack of a hit largely contributed to these results. Confidant by director Juraj Nvota became the most successful domestic film in 2012 with 25,310 viewers. So Fine succeeded in attracting more than 10,000 people to the cinema (13,502 viewers), as also did Dancing on Broken Glass (10,281).
Regarding minority co-productions, The Blue Tiger was the most successful with 6,716 viewers. (Note: More detailed results of premièred films can be found in table Distribution of first-run Slovak and co-production films in Slovakia in 2012).

- Only two new Slovak films were screened from 35mm copies in 2012 (minority co-productions Alois Nebel and The Blue Tiger). All the premièred titles, except for two films by Zuzana Piussi were available on DCP media.

- Two Slovak short films were even screened in cinemas before the main films. The Last Bus (Posledný autobus; SK, 2011, dir. Martin Snopek, Ivana Laučíková) before Aki Kaurismäki’s Le Havre (FI/FR/DE, 2011) and Dust and Glitter (SK, 2011, dir. Michaela Čopíková) before the film A Night Too Young (Příliš mladá noc; CZ/SI, 2012, dir. Olmo Omerzu).

- The Bažant Cinematograph project is an alternative form of distribution. In 2012, it was held for what was already the tenth time. Over the summer, five films were screened, free of charge, from two professionally modified Škoda RTO buses equipped with a 35mm projector in the historical centres of towns and cities: Perfect Days (Perfect Days – I ženy mají své dny; CZ, 2011, dir. Alice Nellis – 12,680 viewers), The House (Dom; CZ/SK, 2011, dir. Zuzana Liová – 10,180 viewers), Czech Made Man (CZ, 2011, dir. Tomáš Rehořek – 10,100 viewers), Gypsy (Cigán; SK/CZ, 2011, dir. Martin Šulík – 9,280 viewers) and Innocence (CZ, 2011, dir. Jan Hřebejk – 9,260 viewers). Short films by Slovak animators Michaela Čopíková and Ivana Laučíková were screened before the main feature.

- These films were supplemented by several other titles screened at film and music festivals. The Bažant Cinematograph made 35 stops and 52,300 people came to view the films for free (61,000 in 2011). In addition, 10,900 people watched films at the new third scene of Bažant Cinematograph at the Magio Beach in Bratislava. Over 28 evenings from July 13 to August 18, these people availed themselves of the opportunity to see 36 films and a block of short films, and even the opening of the Summer Olympic Games in London, projected by real-time cinema technology on an inflatable 10 x 4.5 m screen with Dolby Stereo sound.

For the first time in the entire history of publication of the Report on the Slovak Audiovisual Situation we do not have any data from DVD Group on the number of DVDs and Blu-rays (BDs) released and sold in 2012 in Slovakia (just for information, in 2011, in total 646 new titles were released and 667,293 DVDs and 50,779 BDs were sold). We managed to get information only from last year’s two largest DVD and BD distributors in Slovakia.

Magic Box Slovakia’s bestselling BDs in 2012 were: 1. The Avengers 2-BD set (3D+2D); 2. The Dark Knight Rises (2 BDs); 3. Madagascar 3: Europe’s Most Wanted, 4. Taken (FR, 2007, dir. Pierre Morel (BD+DVD – Combo Pack)), 5. Brave 2-BD set (3D+2D).

All in all, Magic Box Slovakia released 187 new titles in 2012 and sold 294,000 DVDs and BDs which is 13,064 more than in 2011 (280,936).

In 2012, 45 DVDs with 67 Slovak and co-production audiovisual works were released. Of these, 28 were feature-length films for cinemas (in 2011, 68 DVDs with 107 Slovak and co-production audiovisual works were published, of which 33 were feature-length films).

The Slovak Film Institute (SFI) and Petit Press completed the DVD project entitled Slovak Cinema in 2011; within the project 50 films from the 1940s to the 1980s were released. However, the SFI continued releasing domestic production on DVD and released twelve films. Re-editions of titles released in the past in the form of popular directors’ collections – 3x Štefan Uher: The Sun in a Net (Slnko v sieti; CS, 1962), The Organ (Organ; CS, 1964), Three Daughters (Tri dcéry; CS, 1967); 3x Juraj Jakubisko: The Prime of Life (Kristove roky; CS,1967) and Birdies, Orphans and Fools (Vtáčkovia, siroty a blázni; CS, 1969) were complemented by a DVD with the film that has not yet been officially released I’m Sitting on a Tree and I Feel Fine (Sedím na konári a je mi dobre; CS/DE, 1989) and 3x Paľo Bielik: Forty-four Mutineers (Štyridsaťštyri; CS, 1957), Captain Dabač (Kapitán Dabač; CS, 1959), Jánošík I, II (CS, 1962/1963), further the 2-DVD set The Man Who Lies (Muž, ktorý luže; CS/FR, 1968, dir. Alain Robbe-Grillet) / Eden and After (Eden a potom...; CS/FR, 1970, dir. Alain...
In 2012, Bontonfilm released a romantic drama and the most successful film of 2011 Lóve (SK/CZ, 2011, dir. Jakub Kroner), the animated adaptation of the cult Czech comics Alois Nebel, the drama from the beginnings of punk in Czechoslovakia DONT STOP and the family film The Blue Tiger. Documentary filmmaker Pavol Barabáš continues to release his own films on DVD from his K2 Studio. In 2012, Pygmies – The Children of the Jungle (Pygmejovia – Deti džungle, SK; 2011) was released on DVD.

The release of DVDs appended to newspapers and magazines, and also sold separately in paper and standard sleeves in news-stands in Slovakia is monitored on a daily basis on the website DVD za facku (www.dvdzafacku.sk). The website collects information directly from the publishers releasing the DVDs, as well as from a network of collaborators and fans. In 2012, it recorded 1,746 various titles on DVDs, CDs or special multi-disc packages on sale on news-stands, being 1,360 fewer than in 2011 (3,106 titles).

Slovak films were also released on DVD abroad. The French publisher of DVDs Malavida has been releasing DVD editions of European films from the 1960s since 2006. In 2010, four films were published by Malavida: The Sun in a Net, The Boxer and Death (Boxer a smrť; CS, 1962, dir. Peter Solán) and two films by Juraj Jakubisko The Prime of Life and Birdies, Orphans and Fools. In 2012, five films made by Dušan Hanák were released on DVD: 322 (CS, 1969), Pictures of the Old World (Obrazy starého sveta; CS, 1972), Rosy Dreams (Ružové sny; CS, 1976), I Love, You Love (Ja milujem, ty miluješ; CS, 1989) and Paper Heads (Papierové hlavy; SK/CH/FR/CZ/DE, 1995). The films are on DVD in the original version with French subtitles and they will be distributed in France as well as in Belgium and Switzerland.

The offer of films for downloading is becoming more and more widespread. Either via the Internet, for instance through the Piano system which enables operators of websites to charge for online content or via digital televisions – e.g. Magio from T-Com offered 850 titles in its video rental (the price for unlimited watching over 48 hours was EUR 1.80) and Fiber TV from Orange offered almost one thousand titles, of which 312 were educational programmes (renting a programme for 24 hours cost EUR 2.49). Both also offer a seven-day archive of the programmes broadcast. And CME launched the Voyo portal in 2011 in Slovakia. It is a video-on-demand platform offering only films at the outset (over 600 titles in 2012) and later also exclusive online channels Voyo Cinema, Voyo Family, Voyo New, an archive of TV programmes and sports events for EUR 5.99 monthly.

At the 23rd annual awards of the Slovak Film Union, Union of Slovak Television Creators and the Literary Fund for audiovisual works in 2011, Pavol Barabáš won the creative premium for DVD and CD-ROM for his 22 DVD Grand Prix Collection, and Marián Brázda won the award for dramaturgy and magazine of the DVD edition Slovak Cinema of the 40’s & 50’s (Slovenský film 40.–50. rokov).
In 2012, the number of cinemas in Slovakia declined to a historical low, despite the fact that two new 4-screen miniplexes (cinemas with 2-7 screens) were opened within the Ster Century Cinemas network: on April 5, 2012 in Spišská Nová Ves in the Madaras Shopping Centre and on April 19, 2012 in Prievidza in the Korzo Shopping Centre. On May 30, 2012 a new 2-screen cinema, Europa Cinemas, was opened in the Europa Shopping Centre in Zvolen; movable D-Box seats were presented in the cinema for the first time in the territory of the former Czechoslovakia. Hence, 146 cinemas with 217 screens were in operation (in 2011, the number was 159 cinemas with 225 screens). Of this, there were 111 cinemas with a single screen, 1 classical 2-screen cinema (Lumière) with 296 seats, 15 miniplexes with 59 screens and 9,834 seats and 3 multiplexes (cinemas with 8 and more screens) with 29 screens and 5,472 seats, 13 outdoor cinemas and 3 video-cinemas and alternative spaces.

As of December 31, 2012, 113 screens in 45 cinemas were digitised (75 screens in 25 cinemas in 2011). In 75 of them (57 in 2011), even 3D screening was possible. Three Cinema City multiplexes in Bratislava, at the shopping malls Aupark, Polus and Eurovea had all 29 screens digitised. Ten miniplexes of the CINEMAX network in Banská Bystrica, Dunajská Streda, Košice, Nitra, Poprad, Prešov, Skalica, Trenčín, Trnava and Žilina had all 43 screens digitised. The Ster Century Cinemas miniplex network in Košice, Prievidza, Spišská Nová Ves and Žilina had 12 out of 14 screens digitised (85.71%). As of December 31, 2012, 97.73% of screens in multi-screen cinemas were digitised.

The number of digitised single-screen cinemas grew substantially. To the 10 single-screen cinemas previously digitised: Kultúra in Ružomberok, Moskva in Martin, Apollo in Lučenec, Danubius in Štúrovo, Nicolaus in Liptovský Mikuláš, Hviezda in Trnava, Kino X in Stupava, the Panoramic Cinema in Partizánske, Mier in Spišská Nová Ves and Fontána in Piešťany, 17 were added in 2012: Gemini Lux in Bánovce nad Bebravou, Nostalgia in Bratislava, Palárik in Čadca, Dom kultúry in Galanta, Fajn in Humenné, Iskra in Kežmarok, Záhoran in Malacky, Centrum in Michalovce, Považan in Nové Mesto nad Váhom, Mier in Nové Zámky, Dom kultúry in Pezinok, Orbis in Rimavská Sobota, Mier in Senec, Nova in Sereď, Dom kultúry in Šaťa, Spoločenský dom in Topoľčany and Mier in Trstená. Further 10 cinemas were granted digitisation support from the AVF; however, they had not been digitised by December 31, 2012.

22 of the 27 digitised single-screen cinemas can also screen films in 3D format. Two of 23 outdoor cinemas (in Senec and Pezinok) used a projector from a classical cinema in summer and the rest could screen films only on 35mm format; however, only a minimum number of new films were available on this format.

Digitisation of cinemas is also enabled by financial support from the Slovak Audiovisual Fund (AVF). In 2010, five applications were granted support totalling EUR 170,000. In 2011, seventeen applications were already granted support totalling EUR 485,000 (of this number, 12 applications were granted support also thanks to the special contribution from the Ministry of Culture of EUR 314,000 in December 2011) and in 2012, further 17 applications totalling EUR 576,000. Only four single-screen cinemas (Ružomberok, Martin, Stupava and Bánovce nad Bebravou) were digitised without a state support; the average amount of state support for digitisation of cinemas equals to approximately EUR 33,000.

The survey of Slovak cinemas was one of the most important events in 2012. It consisted of direct visits to the individual cinemas, photo documentation and questionnaires, and the result was not only a detailed mapping of their current situation but also their potential, possibilities and the readiness of the individual cinemas for digitisation. Such research was carried out for the first time in the history of cinema in Slovakia by Film Europe with support from the AVF and it was one of the prerequisites for formulation of the subsequent strategy and specific steps. Thanks to this survey, the AVF complemented the support structure in 2013 with a sub-programme for the modernisation of cinemas by E-cinema HD technology, and the Minister of Culture submitted to the Government the Cinema Digitisation Strategy of the Slovak Republic (see the chapter on Legislation).

As of December 31, 2012, in all, 19 cinemas with 55 screens in 17 cities formed part of the European network of cinemas, Europa Cinemas (3,197 screens in 1,170 cinemas in 673 cities in 68 countries): Mladosť Cinema and Cinema Lumière in Bratislava, cinemas in Liptovský Mikuláš (Nicolaus), Martin (Strojár), Piešťany (Fontána), Rimavská Sobota (Orbis), Ružomberok (Kultúra), Spišská Nová Ves (Mier), Trenčín (ArtKino Metro), and CINEMAX miniplexes in Banská Bystrica, Dunajská Streda, Košice, Nitra, Poprad, Prešov, Skalica, Trenčín, Trnava and Žilina.

FILM CLUBS

Film clubs (FC) in Slovakia are associated in the Association of Slovak Film Clubs (ASFC); as of December 31, 2012, there were a total of 43 film clubs (one more than in 2011). Most of the film clubs operate on the premises of conventional cinemas. 17 of them, i.e. 39.53% are in digitised cinemas.

Following a 16.1% decline in attendance in 2011, a year-on-year decline in attendance at art-house films in all cinemas in Slovakia (not only in FCs) was recorded in 2012. 71,707 viewers attended art-house films, which is 2.8% down on 2011 (73,724 viewers). Art-house films constituted 2.09% of the total attendance in Slovak cinemas (2.05% in 2011).

The average admission fee was EUR 1.95 for art-house films in all cinemas (EUR 2.01 in 2011). Just for comparison, the average admission fee in all cinemas was EUR 5.11 in 2012.

The most important events organised by ASFC in 2012 included a touring showcase Project 100 – 2012 and the Slovak section of the 19th International Film, Television and Video Festival Febiofest.

The 19th International Film, Television and Video Festival Febiofest offered, from March 29 to April 3 in Bratislava and until April 22 in further 6 Slovak cities, 170 screenings of 90 films in 15 sections. They were watched by almost 10,000 viewers. The laureates of the ASFC 2011 Awards were announced at Febiofest for the fourth time. The film club FK Naoko in Trenava became the best film club. Melancholia (DK/SE/FR/DE/IT, 2011, dir. Lars von Trier) became the best club film. Polish director Agnieszka Holland won the annual award for her contribution to world cinematography. Slovak director Martin Šulík took the annual ASFC award for his contribution to Slovak cinematography and the club movement.

In 2012 ASFC released 38 films in cinemas (9 of them were theatrical re-releases)

Suicide Room (PL, 2011, dir. Jan Komasa) became the most-attended art-house film in 2012. After ranking first in 2010 and 2011, Katka (CZ, 2010, dir. Helena Třeštíková) was ranked in the TOP 10 even in 2012!

- The principal tasks of the SFI include the storage, protection and restoration of audiovisual heritage, its processing and enhancing, elaboration and distribution of knowledge in the field of audiovisual culture, in particular the cinematography and audiovisual art of the Slovak Republic. The basic activities mainly include professional storage, treatment, preservation and restoration of audiovisual heritage, making the audiovisual heritage available to the public for study, educational and scientific purposes, searching for, obtaining, collecting, cataloging, preserving originals or copies of audiovisual works and audiovisual recordings and making them available to the public including documentary and informational materials relating to audiovisual works and audiovisual recordings, theoretical and conceptual, research, documentation, coordination, education, bibliographic, research, methodical and consulting activities and editorial activities including the publishing of periodic and non-periodic publications and media with Slovak audiovisual works; the creation and operation of an information system, organization of cultural events, reviews and festivals, promotion of audiovision and cinematography including the promotion of audiovisual heritage, fulfilling the role of the national filmoteca and cooperation with international organizations in the field of audiovision and cinematography, and representing the Slovak Republic in those organizations.

In relation to those works, the SFI executes the rights of executive artists to artistic performances performed in such works, it is the producer of their audiovisual recording and with its activities it enhances the property rights.
- The SFI executes public administration in the field of protecting the audiovisual heritage, provides methodological guidance for the cataloguing, protection and restoration of the audiovisual heritage fund, and assesses the audiovisual value of audiovisual works, audiovisual recordings and audio recordings in compliance with § 32; for the purposes of assessing the audiovisual value, the Director General appoints an advisory body for the protection of audiovisual heritage.
In 2012, the SFI performed and will continue to perform three priority projects in the following period: Systematic Restoration of Audiovisual Cultural Heritage and Making It Accessible (project approved by the Slovak Government) – in 2012, 1,727,859 metres of material were treated in a laboratory and 352,257 metres of new material were made on 35mm film; SK CINEMA Integrated Audiovisual Information System (project approved by the Ministry of Culture of the Slovak Republic, hereinafter referred to as the MC SR) – in 2012, 42,922 new recordings were made and by the end of 2012 there were 281,195 recordings in total; and the Presentation of Slovak Cinema Abroad Project (project approved by the MC SR) – some of the most important projects in this respect included the joint stand of three countries (Slovakia, Czech Republic and Slovenia), the Central European Cinema Stand at the EFM Berlin, the joint pavilion of Slovakia and the Czech Republic at the Marché du film at the IFF Cannes, the presentation of the SFI and Slovak cinema at the IFF Karlovy Vary and MFDF Jihlava.

On March 6, 2012 the grant agreement for the Digital Audiovision National Project totalling EUR 24,089,940.37 was signed. The SFI is implementing this project in collaboration with the Radio and Television of Slovakia (RTVS). The National Project is part of the Strategy of the Development of Memory and Fund Institutions and Restoration of their National Infrastructure prepared by the Ministry of Culture and also part of the list of national projects within the Operational Programme “Information Society”. The National Project is unique in Europe as regards its extent; it will create conditions for the systematic digitisation of the audiovisual heritage not only up to 2015, when the activities under this Project will end, but also for at least the further five years needed for sustainability of the project results. Its main aim is to digitise parts of collections of audiovisual items.

The basic long-term tasks of the SFI in the upcoming period include the execution of the role of a legal repository for audiovisual works, the comprehensive professional maintenance of the cinematographic section of the national cultural heritage of Slovakia, and, as part of this, a complex systematic retrieval and restoration of its collections including their transcription to digital and magnetic carriers, progressive digitalisation of archive collections for the purpose of long-term storage and availability by means of new media, professional cataloguing of archive items and collections and their informative and content description, and their consequent availability to the public.

From the viewpoint of organization, the SFI is divided into the National Film Archive (NFA) and the National Cinematographic Centre (NCC), while the MEDIA Desk Slovakia constitutes a separate component of the SFI (its activities are subject to a separate chapter).

The National Film Archive (NFA) is, according to the resolution of the Ministry of Interior of the SR, a specialized public archive consisting of unique films and film-related archive funds and collections. The National Cinematography Center (NCC) coordinates the Audiovisual Information Center, Department of Film Events, Editorial Department and other activities associated with the presentation and sale of products of the SFI’s editorial activity. Its main role is to collect and provide complex and up-to-date information, statistics and informational services relating to Slovak cinematography, as well as the promotion and presentation of Slovak films at home and abroad. The activity of the NCC, which particularly focuses on the actual creation and production of Slovak audiovisual works, is a natural supplement to the activities of the NFA, which focuses primarily on archiving, cataloguing and making the audiovisual heritage available. In 2012, the NCC coordinated the implementation of the priority project Presentation of Slovak Cinema Abroad.
